GEORGIAN'S HISS

NAME OF BRYAN

WATSON SCORES NEBRASKAN'S

ATTITUDE TOWARD NEGRO

SOLDIERS.

ATLANTA, (Ga.), July 9.—Cheers for President Roosevelt and hisses for William Jennings Bryan followed a reference to the Brownsville incident in a speech this morning of Thomas Watson, addressing the Georgia Populist Convention. Roosevelt, declared the speaker, fearlessly and properly punished the rioters of Brownsville and won for himself the praise of all true men. Taft refused to denounce the President for what he had done. He said:

"No, he was a man with red blood in his veins. But Bryan," said the speaker, "asserted himself as opposed to the attitude of the President and in sympathy with the Brownsville soldiers. Are you men of Georgia and of the South going to support such a man and give him your State simply because he is a Democrat?"

Cries of "Shame!" "Never!" and hisses greeted the question. At night Watson was formally notified of his nomination for the President by the Populist party.

TIGER MAHATMA

GOES TO PRISON

"HALF GOD" TOO FRIENDLY WITH

WOMEN WHO REPLIED TO AD-

VERTISEMENTS.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Agamya Guru Paramahansa, known as the "Tiger Mahatma," who has been sentenced to imprisonment for four months in London for taking insulting liberties with two young women when they answered his advertisement for a typewritist, was in New York for several months last year and came near being proceeded against here for his behavior similar to that of which he has just been convicted in London.

The testimony of the complaining witnesses was that when they called at his residence he made improper advances. One of the young women said he embraced her and tried to kiss her, and she escaped only by promising to return. The magistrate strongly censured the Mahatma and said many complaints of the same kind from other young women had been received.

The "Tiger Mahatma," who had been introduced to England by the late Max Muller, was heralded as "half man and half god." When he came here, in June 1907, he formed the "Association for the Study of the Ancient Wisdom," of which Paul Morton of the Equitable Life Assurance Society was induced to become president. Morton soon dropped out after contributing $100, as he concluded the "Tiger Mahatma" was a humbug.

"I am God. I know everything," declared the Mahatma to his cult. He rented a house here, but did not prosper sufficiently in obtaining converts to his religion of the Far East, and left in August. It now transpires that his stenographer and several women students complained about his language and actions toward them, and that he left here just in time to avoid punishment. He is a thick-necked, full-lipped and swarthy Oriental.

Tom Platt will have to be given credit for having attained some sense in his old age. He announces, as incident to his failure to attend the Chicago convention, that his activities in the world of politics has passed. Yes, and his influence, too.—Topeka State Journal.

A woman may fool her husband in believing that he is the head of the house, but she can't fool the neighbors.
